**About Exploding Kittens**

Exploding Kittens is a card game in which players must avoid drawing the card with the exploding kitten. The player who reveals the card is immediately eliminated from the game.

In Exploding Kittens, the name speaks for itself. In fact, this mobile game is all about exploding kittens. The card game works a bit like Russian roulette. In turn players place a card and at the same time draw a card from the pile. However, there is also a card in this pile showing an exploding kitten. The player who uncovers the card with the exploding kitten leaves the game immediately. However, there are some cards that prevent the kitten from exploding or pass it to another player. Exploding Kittens is mainly a multiplayer game. You can either play locally with friends or play against players from all over the world online.

**Exploding Kittens - Features:**

- Avoid the exploding kitten: Exploding Kittens is an entertaining and fast-paced card game. Here every player is afraid of the exploding kitten. In the deck of cards, which is in the middle of the board, there is a card showing an exploding kitten. This ensures that the player who draws the card, dies immediately. In each round, players must place a card and draw a new card. Exploding Kittens is a nerve wracking combination of Russian roulette and card game.
- React: In Exploding Kittens, of course, there is not only the card with the exploding kitten, but also many more cards. Each card triggers another action. For example, some cards may change the order or you have to drag the bottom card of the deck. In addition, there are cards that can defuse the kitten's explosion. If you have such a card, if you draw the card with the exploding kitten, you will survive.
- Multiplayer Game: Exploding Kittens focusses on mutliplayer games. The game can be played in a round of two to five players. You decide if you prefer to play locally with your friends or if you compete online against players from all over the world.

Conclusion: Exploding Kittens is a fast-paced and nerve-wracking card game in which anyone can be the next victim of the kitten.
