- Defend yourself: Five Nights at Freddy's 4 is the last part of the popular horror saga. Unlike the first three parts, in which you played the role of a night watchman and watched out for a famous pizzeria, in the fourth part of the Horror series, you play a child. Your goal is to survive a night in your room. As in the previous parts, you'll have to protect yourself from nasty creatures this night. The creepy stuffed animal group around Freddy Fazbear will keep trying to get you. Since there are many dark corners, doors, and closets in your room where the creepy creatures can hide, you'll need to be extra careful to keep the creatures away from you.
- Use your flashlight: To defend yourself from the nasty creatures, you have a flashlight at hand. With the help of this flashlight, you can not only keep an eye on your entire room, but also scare away sneaking creatures for a short time. But beware: If the creatures are already too close, even the flashlight can not protect you.
- Close the doors: There is a button on the left side of the screen to open or close the doors of your room.
- Play loud: To survive for a long time, the volume of the game is of great importance. The sound is important so that you can hear the breath of your enemies and protect yourself from their attacks.

Conclusion: Like the first three parts of the horror series, Five Nights at Freddy's 4 is also scary and absolutely not for the faint-hearted
