

Live.me – Live Video Chat

About Live.me

Live.me is a platform where users can send live videos. In addition, users have the possibility to watch the live streaming videos of other users and celebrities.

With Live.me you can share your daily life with a large community. In the app, you can not only record your own live videos and share them with your followers, but also watch live streaming videos of other users. In addition, many stars from YouTube or Musical.ly are also active on Live.me, so you can also access their videos. You'll also have plenty of filters and effects available which you can use during your live video.me for free on our website.

Live.me - Features:

- Send and watch live videos: With Live.me you can show yourself and your everyday life. If you want to share a special experience or some thoughts with your followers, just start live streaming. As others can comment on your stream, you have the option to respond to your followers' comments or questions directly. You can not only send live video, but you can also watch live streams from other Live.me users. You'll also find many celebrities and YouTube or musical.ly stars on Live.me.
- Find Followers: On the large platform of Live.me you will find many exciting and nice people who may even share the same interests and hobbies. Meet new people and find new followers. You can also convince your own friends of your live streaming by sharing your videos with your Instagram, Facebook or Snapchat friends.
- Receive and send gifts: If you like a video or a user very much, you can send him special gifts. These gifts can then be converted into diamonds, which can later even be exchanged for real money.
- Use filters and effects: During your live streaming, you can use different filters or make-up effects, so that you can always present yourself from your best side.
- Follow your favorites: When you follow users or celebrities, you will receive special notifications as soon as a new live video of them starts.
- Find new videos: Since countless live videos are started daily on Live.me, the app has a search function, with which you can specifically search for videos and topics. Search for a hashtag (#) and find new videos you might like.

Conclusion: With Live.me you can easily share your everyday life with friends and followers. In addition, you have numerous videos of stars and other interesting users available, which you can follow in real time. Live.
