-Discover new music: With more than 150 million tracks, SoundCloud is the largest music and audio streaming platform worldwide. On SoundCloud you not only find tracks from well-known artists and labels, but also from ambitious and so far unknown interpreters. You can discover daily new music and thereby support more unknown artists. Besides songs from Hip Hop, Electro, Pop, Rock or Jazz sector, you also find e.g. podcasts and audio books on SoundCloud.

-Your music, always and anywhere: With the app you can use all known features of the web version. By using the app you can e.g. also discover music, create playlists or manage your own music collection. Access your music even on the move and listen to your favorite tracks no matter where you are. Due to the clear design of the app, discovering artists and listening to music is even more fun.

-Different subscription possibilities: On SoundCloud you can choose between different subscriptions. Even though SoundCloud Free offers you an access to 120 million songs and offers you the possibility to create playlists, you have to accept advertising and cannot make tracks offline available. These possibilities offer e.g. SoundCloud Go or SoundCloud Go+ though they are associated with monthly costs. A part of these revenues will be transmitted to the producer or the artists.

Conclusion: With SoundCloud you can discover easily new music from still unknown artists. Besides ambitious underground artists, you can also access well-known tracks from major labels. By dint of the app you can manage your music, create playlists and access your music selections even when you're on the move.
