

Bumble - Meet New People

**About Bumble****

Bumble is a platform where users can not only find dates, but also make new friends or establish business contacts.

Bumble connects people. No matter if you want to meet new people, find a new love or expand your professional network: in Bumble you can make all kinds of relationships. What is special about Bumble is that the dating principle has been fundamentally changed. Instead of men, women make the first step in Bumble.

**Bumble - Features:****

- Meet new people: Bumble is a platform where people can get to know each other. No matter whether you want to make new friends, fall in love with new people or establish business contacts: Bumble offers you three different modes with which you can filter optimally. Since over 21 million people are already registered, you will definitely find the right one.
- The classic Bumble: The classic dating mode "Bumble" introduces you to people near you who would like to fall in love again. A special aspect of Bumble, however, is its revolutionary dating principle, which breaks with traditional gender roles. In the app, women have to make the first step. If a woman is interested in a man, she can contact him within 24 hours. The man then has 24 hours to respond to her message. It should be noted that for same sex connections, both sides have 24 hours to contact each other. In both cases, the matches automatically expire after 24 hours.
- Bumble BFF: If you do not want to find a new relationship, but a new friendship, the mode "Bumble BFF" is just right for you. Here you will meet new people who share your interests and want to make new friends. This is how you quickly get to know new people who live near you.
- Bumble Bizz: "Bumble Bizz" is the app's special business mode that allows you to expand your professional network. Meet new business contacts, establish professional connections or find people who inspire you professionally.
- Verified Profiles: Since all profiles need to be verified over time, you can be sure that you are only dealing with real profiles and people.

Conclusion: With Bumble you can easily meet new people in your area. With the help of the app, you can find a new love as well as make new friends or establish business contacts.
