

slither.io

About Slither.io

The app Slither.io brings the popular browser game on smartphones or tablets. The main target of the game is becoming the longest snake. Players can compete against players from all over the world.

Slither.io can be regarded as a modern version of the game classic Snake. In Slither.io you control a snake and try to survive as long as possible by collecting little beads. In this game you compete against players from all over the world. Be careful and try to build the longest snake of the game.io free of charge on our web page.

*Slither – how does it work? ****

-Become the longest snake: The main target of Slither.io is building a snake which is as long as possible. For this purpose you have to devour many little beads as fast as possible. The longest snake wins at the end of the game. But pay attention to the other players and protect yourself from getting devoured by the snakes from the other players. If this happens, you have to start again from scratch.

-Pay attention to your head: If the head of your snake touches another player, your snake explodes and dies. But if other players touch your snake, they explode and die. After their death, you can eat their remains and get even longer.

-Compete against players: Slither.io is an online game which means that you can compete against players from all over the world. Match with other players and demonstrate that you have what it takes to become the longest snake.

Conclusion: In Slither.io concentration and savvy are most important. Especially fans of Snake will be thoroughly satisfied by this game. Demonstrate your speed, eat as many beads as possible and defeat your opponent.