

**About wetter.com****

The app from wetter.com informs reliably about the current weather condition and offers users a comprehensive overview of the likelihood of rain, storms or the weather of the next days.

Since the app from wetter.com offers you the possibility to bear current weather conditions and the weather of the next days in mind, you can plan trips and parties even more aimed. The app informs you about the daytime temperature but also about the likelihood of rain, storms or the current air pressure. With the help of the special weather live cam and the rain radar you can follow the weather and the rainfall also in real time.com for free from our web page.

**Wetter.com – features:****

- Reliable weather forecasts: With the app from wetter.com you are always well informed about the current weather condition and the weather of the next days at your location. The app not only presents you the temperature, but also the temperature felt, the air pressure, the likelihood of rain or the expected rainfall. The app also supplies you with the weather forecast of e.g. the next 7 or 16 days. Because of that, you can plan foresightedly and attune your activities to the weather.
- Follow weather in real time: With the help of the app from wetter.com you cannot only watch the current weather conditions and the weather forecast, but also follow the weather in real time. The app has e.g. a weather live cam which records the weather at different locations in Germany live. With the help of the interactive rain radar you can also follow the rainfall in real time.
- Wetter.com videos: The current weather conditions are also presented in short videos which are recorded in the wetter.com studio. In these videos an expert informs you in detail about the current weather in Germany as well as the weather of the next days in your region.
- Fast and reliable warning: The app from wetter.com notifies you quickly and reliably about storms in your region by using push messages. Because of that you can escape the storm and take precautions.

Conclusion: The app from wetter.com supplies you with all important information on the current weather condition and the weather of the next days. Select a location to receive the weather forecast and important weather information like the likelihood of rain, the air pressure or the temperature. By using the weather live cam or the interactive rain radar you also bear the weather and possible weather changes in mind. The app from wetter.